

Rustenberg vs Brits

"We have been winning comfortably against our old rivals, Wagpos, in recent years, and so some new derbies have begun. In 2007 we began playing Rustenberg regularly. They're only 60km down the road, and it's a derby which, although still gaining momentum, is going to grow into something big. Games against them are tough and hard to win, and they draw quite a few of the farmers' sons. Playing against them can only improve the rugby of Brits."
